Flower Show Proves Garden Possibilities

This summer has probably not been the best in the view of sun seekers but it appears to have been a good one for gardeners whose efforts were on display at the Annual W.I. Flower Show last week. The show was described as the best for some time, both in the number and quality of entries and the number of people who attended and saw the attractive displays.

If you missed this year's show, keep it in mind the next time around. You'll be pleasantly surprised at the beautiful array of spectacular and colorful blooms from gardens in this area.

Demonstrators Don't Deserve Sympathy

The Chicago disorders of last week are the subject of a great deal of controversy regarding police methods used to quell the demonstrations and newsmen apparently are guilty of helping to create a black eye for the Chicago Police Department. The press has emphasized the alleged police brutality aspects of the incidents and it appears there is some question about just how fair this is to the police department involved.

The demonstrators gathered from all over the nation with the apparent intent of getting their message across by disrupting the Democratic Convention before the eyes of the world. You could hardly expect the police force to strew daisies in their path!

Protestors and agitators have rights but they don't extend to bringing the business of a city to a halt and making the streets unsafe for the rest of the populace. Any police department is justified in getting tough when this occurs.

The news media didn't help matters much by focussing attention on patrolmen clobbering the beautiful people. They likely could have found a few shots of police officers being belted with bottles or kicked in the face had they looked around a little more for incidents to help even the score.

Instead of knocking the Chicago Police Department we think a little of the press invective should be directed at the people who started the whole thing. There are methods of seeking to right alleged wrongs that don't include bringing a major city to its knees and until the people who take part in the demonstrations learn them we believe policemen are justified in zapping skulls in getting their message across.

Letters to the Editor

Editor,
The Western Review.
Dear Sir:

I would like to write a few lines about an event which took place last Friday evening. The event is over, yet I hope that we can learn something from it.

We are starting a new school year. One of the many activities which occurs during the year and which allows our young people to make new friends is dancing. To my mind, the purpose of dancing is to re-create and renew ourselves in an atmosphere of fun and good will. At any dance - controlled and in good taste - we enlarge our circle of friends, read the music and move about in an air of excitement and happiness. For all these reasons, I personally enjoy dropping in at a dance and feel that Christ approves and is not in competition with this type of activity.

However, at a teen dance in the Elks Hall last Friday these qualities in general seem to be missing. Apart from those who were truly enjoying themselves, there were a number dancing with cigarettes in their mouths or hands. No chaperons were seen and the ages of those present appeared to range from thirteen to the mid-twenties.

The dance started at 10:00 p.m. and was due to finish at 1:30 a.m. (It actually shut down at 1:00 p.m.) - either of these times is hardly a reasonable hour for the age bracket involved.

I feel that young people will give excellence in any activity if this is expected of them. (Un-chaperoned dances invites problems.) I fault those parents who allow their sons and daughters to attend dances without first assuring themselves that the dance will be properly supervised and will carry on in an atmosphere of wholesomeness.

We adults were not put into this community to win popularity contests with our children but rather we are to guide and direct them through their formative years to the best of our abilities.

Drayton Valley is a tremendous community in which to live. We have many assets here such as, sincere civic leaders, good schools, fine recreational facilities and a good community spirit. We should do our best to improve what we have - each of us contributing our talents in order to raise our corner of the world to an ever higher level. In this vein we should expect the best from our young people and let it be known that we will not accept anything less. (I think our young people expect this of us.)

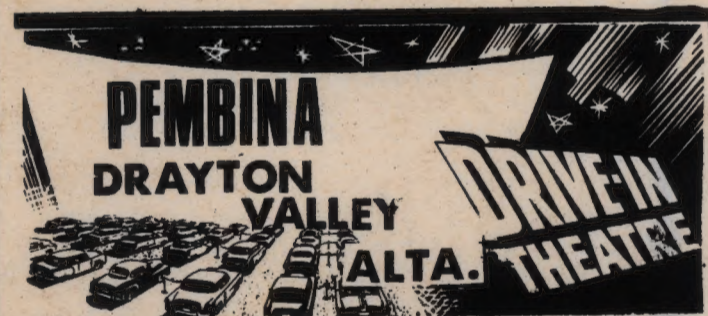

As adults, let us assume our responsibilities to our children and to the community by reaching out and accepting these hands which rightfully are extended to us for our guidance and direction.

Sincerely,
Father Lynch.

ADVICE ON LOANS

Here is a word of caution for those who plan to buy farm machinery or building materials on an interest-free period basis.

Paul Stanley, credit consultant with the Alberta Farm Purchase Board, says that quite a large number of farmers are under the mistaken impression that they can get a farm improvement loan to pay off the company at the end of the interest-free period. He points out that a farm improvement loan cannot be used to re-finance an existing agreement.

A farmer who has bought machinery or building material under these conditions has two alternatives. Either he can arrange a personal loan from his bank to pay off the balance or he can continue his financing agreement with the company. Anyone who is in the position to pay off the company during the interest-free period is alright; most companies are glad to have their accounts paid off as soon as possible.

Mr. Stanley advises farmers who are considering buying machinery or building materials on an interest-free period basis to consult their bankers before arranging anything with the company. Since many purchase contracts of this type run for several years, it could well be that farmers who are eligible for a farm improvement loan would be further ahead in the final analysis to buy the machinery or building materials under such a loan.

A man paced up and down in front of a restaurant, glancing impatiently at the door. Inside, the cashier deduced that he was anxious to come in but something was holding him back. When the cashier had a free moment he went outside and asked the man if there was anything he could do. "No, thank you," the man said. "I'm just waiting for the restaurant to open." "Why, it is open," explained the cashier. "Don't try to kid me," said the man. "I can read. It says on the door there just as plain as day, 'Home Cooking'."

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Grinde of Violet Grove called on Helmer Johansson, formerly of Lodgepole, during their summer holiday trip. The Jo-hannsons are now living at Lumby and wish to be remembered to their friends here.

Over heard Norman Ingram and Andrew Lewis discussing the thrill of the Space Needle and the Mini Rail so conclude that both families included Seattle in their summer wanderings.

Miss Barbara MacKenzie of Edmonton is holidaying with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. R. MacKenzie.

Miss Lyn Burrows, who is in training at the Royal Alexandra hospital, spent a few days with her parents last week.

FROSH DAY FRIDAY

It's "Frosh Day" at Frank Maddock High School on Friday, September 6th when the Grade 10's get "treated" by the seniors. All relatives, and friends and neighbors are invited to come out and cheer the Grade 10's as they pull the "Feather Corps" (student union executive) through town in a convertible, donated by Rick Bright accompanied by a police escort. The "Big Pull" will take place 12:30 p.m.

The day will begin by the "freshies" decked out in their very best - the girls wearing sweat shirts on backwards, below-the-knee flared skirts, unmatched wool socks and sneakers; the boys - long underwear, a tie, cut-offs, a beanie, unmatched wool socks, one runner and one oxford. They will not be allowed to comb their hair and will wear a ribbon in it.

At noon the high school students will gather enmasse at the Civic Centre to have lunch, and then the "Big Pull" will take place.

A big thanks to the TASTE-FREEZ for sponsoring the F.M. H.S. day.

For the day the Grade 10's will take the part of "police" to keep everything in hand, and the Grade 12's will be "The Masters."

Tomahawk Lutherans to Celebrate Fall Festival

Members of Immanuel Lutheran Church at Tomahawk will celebrate their annual fall mission festival at special services on Sunday, September 8th. Services will be held at 11:15 a.m. and 2:30 p.m. The ladies of the church will serve a lunch following the morning services.

Guest speaker at the afternoon service will be the Rev. Walter J. Koehler, pastor of Peace Lutheran Church in Spruce Grove. Rev. Dale D. Mohr, regular pastor at Immanuel, will speak in the morning.

Offerings received at both services will be used for the mission endeavor of the Lutheran Church - Missouri Synod which is currently engaged in foreign mission programs in 34 countries around the world as well as the regular home mission program in the United States and Canada.

The purpose of the special mission emphasis, aside from supporting mission work with funds, is to help the members in being more conscious of the needs and challenges of the church's mission in the twentieth century.

The Immanuel Young People's society, which will meet on Sunday evening, will continue the days emphasis on the mission of the church. The title of the topic will be "The Church in Mission."

Rec. Board To Meet

The Drayton Valley Recreation Board will hold its regular monthly meeting on Monday, September 9th, at 8:00 p.m. The board did not meet in August due to the vacation time with so many Board members on holidays. Monday night's meeting will deal primarily with the fall and winter program and specifically with the opening and operation of the Centennial Civic Centre during the coming winter. Another important item on the agenda will be the Recreation Grant system.

WHEAT QUALITY TESTING

OTTAWA - Sixty-five years ago, Dr. Charles Saunders popped a spoonful of wheat into his mouth, chewed thoughtfully for a few minutes, then spit the small ball of gluten into his hand. He pulled the gluten ball gently, testing it for strength, then scribbled a note on his pad.

Some guys will stop at nothing

Including stop signs. So expect the unexpected and drive defensively.

In the early days of this century, that was the official wheat quality test. Today some of the most sophisticated equipment at the Canada Department of Agriculture's Research Station here is being used to test wheat quality. In fact, two new pieces of equipment are so accurate and can handle such small quantities of flour that they are hailed as scientific breakthroughs.

These machines are an essential link in the research process that has maintained Canada's reputation as the country where the world's highest quality wheat is developed and grown. The machines are making it possible for scientists to weed out poor selections quickly and to concentrate their efforts on more promising strains.

One of the machines, a micro mixer-recorder, was designed to eliminate errors other machines made because they used mechanical arms and levers to record results on a graph. Harry Miller, who is in charge of the winter wheat quality testing, can now record results with electronic precision, thanks to instruments he developed with the co-operation of CDA's Engineering Research Service.

The electronic micro mixer-recorder is far more accurate than other similar machines and it can also test much smaller quantities of flour. The test can be done with as little as four grams of flour instead of 30 or 35 needed only four years ago. The micro mixer tests dough for its strength, which gives a good indication of baking quality.

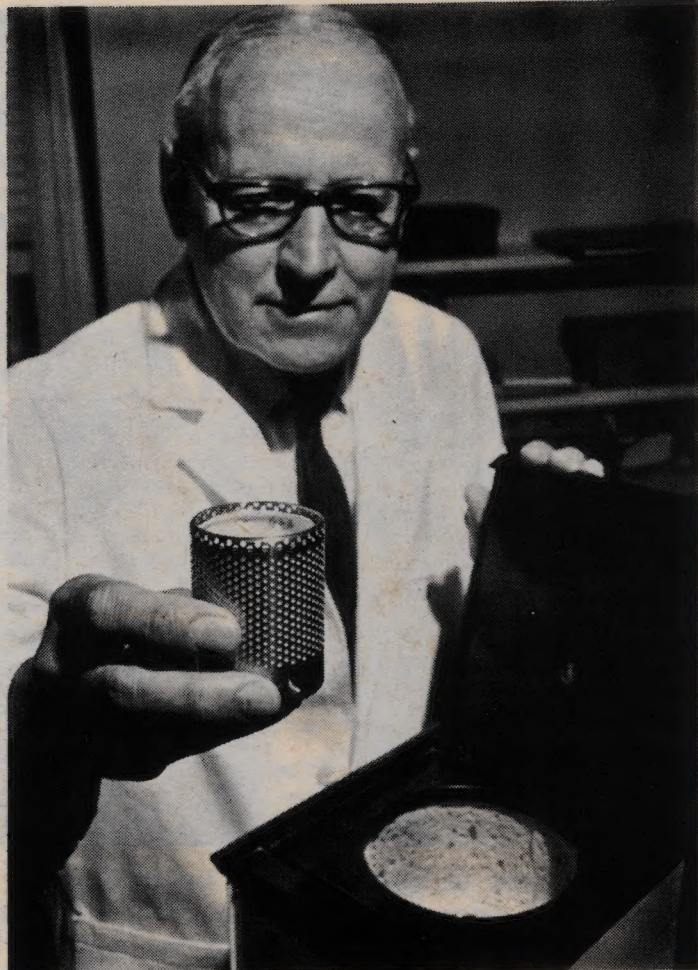

Another device that Mr. Miller has developed recently is the centrifuge test for absorption. It measures the amount of water flour will soak up and retain. This factor also has a high correlation to baking quality. For this test, four grams of flour is mixed with 10 millilitres of water and spun at 11,000 revolutions per minute for 2½ minutes.

Other quality tests determine how hard the kernels are, how much protein or gluten there is in the grain and how sticky is the dough.

Grain is also weighed because the kernels of some varieties are heavier than others.

As a final test, cookies or cakes are baked to measure the reaction of the flour. For some products the dough should spread wide and thin during baking; for others it should rise but not spread.

These tests from the Canada Department of Agriculture are helping farmers and milling companies as well as plant breeders. Every year hundreds of samples of grain collected from farmers and the milling companies are also tested to show quality under actual field conditions.

It's a far cry from the days when Dr. Saunders' chewing was an official test, but it was that first test that eventually led to the development of the new and sophisticated experimental machines that are helping Canadian farmers to retain their reputation as producers of the best quality wheat in the world.

EVANSBURG NEWS

MRS. M. BRUNER,
Correspondent

Sorry about that news column that didn't appear last week, but our household was in that state of the day before the fair that just didn't have space in the house to sit down at a typewriter.

The fair referred to above was the Wildwood and District Fair and was very successful from the society's point of view. A fine crowd attended and a large number of exhibits were on display for the people to see. Three young ladies were contestants for the title of Agricultural Queen and the successful candidate this year was Miss Ann Williamson of Wildwood. The other two young ladies were Miss Janet Currie from Niton and Miss Judi Schroder from Evansburg. I sincerely hope next week to be able to have for the readers, a list of the major trophy winners at the fair. Winners of the gate prizes offered at the fair were Mrs. E. Hale of Edmonton, formerly of Evansburg; Mrs. Mary Myers of Wildwood and Kenny Mazeppa of Evansburg.

The members of the Pembina-H Field Crops Club had their plot tour this past week. Mr. Lowe of Stony Plain and Mr. Gilland and Mr. Lowe of Evansburg did the judging. Winners were: junior rod rows, Zane Bruner; intermediate, Allan Mazeppa; senior, Walter Myszuk.

There have been many visitors in and out of the village all summer. Latest that I am aware of are Mr. and Mrs. Fred Greaves and family who visited with Fred's mother, Mrs. H. Greaves. Mr. and Mrs. F. Hale have been doing repairs to their house while holidaying in the village.

Mr. and Mrs. Manz have moved away to set up business in Bashaw. We will all miss the family.

Thursday, August 28 was high school registration day. Parents were urged to go with their high school children to register and see what sort of program is being offered at the high school this year.

Still camping out, but not by any lake or resort, is the Ivan Brown family who have sold their house in Entwistle and are having to wait for repairs to be done to the house they have purchased here in Evansburg. In the meantime, the family is living in their camper on the site of Mr. Brown's business, the B and F Sales and Service Ltd.

This news item definitely should have appeared last week, but since it didn't, here it is. The United Church services will still be held at 9:15 a.m. for the present but please watch for any change in the times, which may be soon.

Hobbling about with his leg in a cast is Ricky Ostertag who was unfortunate enough to pull a muscle. Also at the Ostertag home on the sick list is Bill who is a victim of the mumps. I hope you are soon both well boys.

This week, families are getting ready to send their children back to school and university students are busy looking for lodging places in the city. This seems to be providing quite a task as rooms are not too readily available.

Visiting at our home last week were Mr. and Mrs. Taschuk from Edmonton. Mrs. Taschuk is formerly from the Evansburg district and Mr. Taschuk from Entwistle. Accompanying Mr. and Mrs. Taschuk was Mrs. Taschuk's brother, Zane Pajak.

Farmers in the area are still busy trying to get up the last bit of their hay crop while some of them have begun to cut their grain crops.

A correction to the news appearing two weeks ago:- It was Mr. Bill Tuke's brother, Bob Tuke, who passed away.

LIBRARY NEWS

A number of copies of the booklet "Laws of Interest to Women of Alberta" have been procured for the library. This little 32-page booklet is crammed full of information. Did you know that there is a law that regulates the weight that any female employee may be permitted to lift or carry?

That only males seventeen years of age or over may be permitted to work in Alberta coal mines? That a person's will is normally revoked upon his or her marriage unless the will specifically states that it is being made in contemplation of that particular marriage? That no woman can be compelled to serve on jury without her prior consent? As the newsboys say -- "Read all about it".

It has been discovered that wall paper makes an excellent "filler" for book covers.

Please do not throw away leftover wall paper. Your library will be most grateful for it.

Stuart Cloete's book "The Abductors" is on the restricted shelf and will be supplied to adult borrowers only. Enquire at the desk.

Hope to see all of you at the Municipal Library in September.

AFTER THE FAMOUS FORMULA OF THE HOUSE OF LETHBRIDGE

How did those six Sioux get on our beer label? (Six? Count 'em. Six.) To say nothing of three crows. And a Hupmobile. And twenty-nine trees. And our House of Lethbridge. How? Frankly, we don't remember. It all happened many moons ago. But one thing's certain: we'll never change our label. Or the great beer behind it. In Lethbridge, we go right on brewing it the slow, natural way, for real flavour. We have spoken.

September Food Outlook

OTTAWA - No price reduction in meats is expected in September, according to the forecast of the Economics Branch, Canada Department of Agriculture. Only potatoes in the fruit and vegetable section, may fetch lower prices.

Beef: - With supplies steady and demand strong, prices will continue firm.

Pork: - Supplies will be below year ago levels and prices moderately higher.

Eggs: - Egg markets firm to slightly stronger due to seasonally lower production.

Turkey: - Heavy turkey prices will be stronger as supplies are slightly below requirements. Broiler turkey prices firm to stronger.

Chicken: - Broiler chicken prices will be steady and supplies plentiful.

You know, we now have a new Department of Consumer and Corporate Affairs in Ottawa. They are asking you for your complaints.

Women come to me with many grievances about goods or services they have purchased. Unfortunately, I don't have the machinery to do anything about it. Your new department can and wants to. You must send your complaints to them.

Simply write and tell them about complaints you have and also about any recommendations for improvements in consumer goods.

Write to: The Consumer, Box 99, Ottawa.

You may also ask to be put on their mailing list for the Consumer Communique - a publication whose function is to distribute information on matters of consumer concern.

At Alberta Women's Week, Mr. Walter Coombs of the Canadian Mental Health Association spoke on "Coping with Daily Stresses". One point he brought out that people get all in a dither about some unsatisfactory condition but do nothing about it. His answer was to do something, get involved, complain and get it off your mind. One doctor said "Women blow ten dollars of energy on a ten cent problem".

When you have a problem with something you purchased, don't waste ten dollars fuming about it. Use a 5 cent stamp and write to: The Consumer, Box 99, Ottawa. Remember: Spare the Complaints - Spoil the Manufacturer.

Edmonton Church Setting For Recent Ceremony

In a lovely double ring ceremony August 21st at four o'clock in Assumption Church in Edmonton, Anna Maria Bohning eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Bohning of Buck Lake, Alberta became the bride of Maurice Robert Lambert, youngest son of Mrs. Marie Jeanne Lambert of Edmonton.

Rev. Father Otterson read the marriage service in the church which was decorated with two large bouquets of gladioli. White satin bows marked the pews.

Miss Rita Schular played the wedding music and the soloist was Mrs. Suzanne Albert.

Given in marriage by her father the bride was radiant in a gown of white satin with matching train that flowed from a high waist-line. Her chapel veil was held in place by a crown of rhinestones. The bride's bouquet was pink carnations.

Mrs. Pauline Molyneux, sister of the bride, was matron of honor, Misses Glorienne Berube and Lillian Brabbs were bridesmaids. They wore identical floor length gowns of pink, blue and yellow peau-de-soie with matching lace bodices. Tiaras crowned their heads and they carried white carnations.

Attending the groom were Don Molyneux, brother-in-law of the bride, and Ivan Bohning and Tom Sieben.

Patrick Bohning and Tom Berube ushered the guests to their places.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Bohning chose a dress of rose chiffon with nylon and acetate lace sleeves with white accessories and a corsage of white carnations.

The groom's mother chose a silver metallic brocade with white accessories and a corsage of pink carnations.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the Hazeldean Hall where the bridal table was centered with a three tiered wedding cake. Candles and gladioli completed the picture.

Master of ceremonies was Ben Wilson. A toast to the bride was proposed by Ivan Bohning brother of the bride.

A dance followed the reception for family and friends. The young couple will make their home in Edmonton. Out of town guests were from Buck Creek, Buck Lake, Falun, Red Deer, Drayton Valley, Beaumont, Slave Lake and Leduc.

Feed Situation Improved

The feed supply situation has greatly improved because of recent rains in central Alberta. This was the consensus of opinion of a committee of dairymen who met with the Honourable H. A. Ruste and Department officials August 28th. Representatives of the F.U.A. and the Counties of Strathcona, Leduc and Wetaskiwin also attended.

Many farmers are now harvesting cereal crops for silage to relieve the shortage of roughage and hay crops caused by earlier drought.

The next three to four weeks can be critical to the overall feed picture. The present plentiful moisture situation can produce an abundance of fodder if weather permits. The dairymen will be meeting with the Minister of Agriculture in about one month's time to reassess the entire feed supply outlook but the principal concern is the present shortage of high quality legume.

The committee urged more publicity be given to proper ensiling procedures to make maximum use of this roughage. Reference was made to the silage bulletin available from any District Agriculturist's office. The committee said farmers should read this bulletin to make the most of ensiled crops.

Potatoes: - Favourable yield expectations point to plentiful supplies and reduced prices in all areas.

Seeding Stubble Land Can Prove Profitable

MELFORT, SASK. - Stubble land will grow up to 85% as much grain as summerfallowed land if it is handled properly.

Farmers who grow crops on well-managed stubble can increase the net return per acre of cultivated land and their total farm income.

K. E. Bowren of the Canada Department of Agriculture's Research Station here makes these recommendations:

--Swath early--at up to 35 per cent moisture level for many crops.

--Leave seven to 10-inch stubble to help hold a snow cover over the field.

--Attach a chopper to the combine and spread the chopped straw uniformly over the field.

--Spray as soon as possible after harvest if perennial weeds are a problem. Spray later for annual and winter annual weed control.

--Till the stubble in the fall if trash is heavy, if grassy weeds present problems, or if Avadex or nitrogen fertilizer are applied in the fall.

--Test for soil nutrients in the fall and for moisture in the spring.

--Seed early with the discer or press drill providing packing.

--Fertilize as recommended by the soil test analyses.

--Use herbicides to control weeds.

Farmers who are thinking about growing a crop on stubble should be making their decision at harvest time. Mr. Bowren says they should examine fields to determine potential and problems that may be encountered in producing another crop.

Serious weed problems can often be detected and corrected at harvest time. If the crop is heavy plans can be made to distribute the straw uniformly by attaching a chopper to the combine, then harrowing at cross-angles to the combine rows once or twice when the trash is dry.

If the crop has been heavy, soil-stored plant food and moisture may be low. Stubble land should be tested each year for nitrogen and periodically for phosphorus and potash requirements. Soil moisture should be examined at seeding time. The crop needs 16 to 24 inches of moist soil to ensure a crop during a year of average rainfall on the heavy and medium-textured soils of northern Saskatchewan.

The Melfort research shows that stubble left standing over winter increased moisture by 30 per cent or one inch compared to land that was either plowed or burned off in the fall. Crops were increased one to two bushels an acre by leaving over-wintering stubble. Trash covers left by discers or cultivators held less moisture than stubble, but often farmers gained better weed control. On the average, yields on standing and fall tilled (discer or cultivator) stubble land was about the same at Melfort.

During an eight-year study of wheat, oats, and barley, the highest yields were achieved by seeding stubble with the discer and heavy packer attachment or seeding with the double disc press drill following tillage with the discer and harrows.

You make it even better.

That's why we called in Brewmaster Steinecker.

And why Molson's Edmonton Brewery now has the first complete Steinecker Brewhouse in North America.

This brewhouse is the brainchild of a brilliant Bavarian who developed a better way to brew beer to consistently great flavour.

Naturally, the idea appealed to Molson's.

Recreation Round-Up

By Mike Gormley

FOOTBALL NEWS

Progress in the football program has been very slow to date. Procrastination has been the rule rather than the exception so far in this budding season. The chief cause of the delay so far has been an alarming paucity of potential players especially at the Bantam level. To date only four boys have registered in this program and if we hope to field a satisfactory Bantam team we should have ten times that number of candidates under registration. With the closeout of the holiday season we hope that interest will increase and therefore we may be able to get on with the program. If this interest fails to materialize in the next few days, Bantam Football in Drayton Valley could be in dire trouble for 1968.

Registration has been much better in the "Little Canadian" category. From here it seems that there will be two teams in the local "Little Canadian" League. It would be preferable if we could field three teams at this level, however, it would seem that two is the limit for this year. The chief problem here is that of coaching. We would need three or four more coaches. Anyone who could help out in this capacity is requested to contact the Recreation Office either personally or by phone at 542-3327. Your assistance is urgently needed here if the minor football program is to be a success this year.

The high school team is practising regularly these days. There are a good number of boys trying out with the team and everyone involved are enthusiastic about the possibilities of the Spartans this season. There is a good possibility that the F.M.H.S. team will be playing in the Northern Section of the Central Alberta High School Football League this season. This matter will be finalized this week. In the event that the Spartans do not enter this league, they will play a pretty busy exhibition season, generally with teams from the Central Alberta League.

A new coach has been added to the Spartan staff. Rod Colbert who needs no introduction to local hockey and football fans will be in charge of the F.M.H.S. defensive backfield this fall. From here it looks like the best High School football team that Drayton Valley has been able to field since 1962 when the Spartans had a great year in the N.C.A.H.S.F.L.

FOOTBALL CLINIC

A Clinic for football officials will be held in the Recreation Room of the Centennial Civic Centre on Saturday, September 7th, from 10:00 a.m. to 6:00 p.m. The clinic is sponsored by the Drayton Valley Recreation Board through the Department of Youth and the Alberta Football Referee's Association.

The clinic will deal in detail with the rules of the game as well as the specific dates and responsibilities of a referee, a linesman, an umpire and a field judge as well as those of the sideline officials. The clinic instructor will be a fully qualified person from the Alberta Football Referees' Association.

The registration fee for this clinic is $1.00 per person. The clinic is open to anyone wishing to attend. All those interested in officiating Minor Football as well as all local coaches and High School and Bantam players are urged to attend.

That is Saturday, September 7th, time - 10:00 a.m. to 6:00 p.m.

ATHLETIC ASSOCIATION MEETING

The Drayton Valley Athletic Association will hold its regular monthly meeting on Thursday, September 12th at 8:00 p.m. in the Recreation Office. The meeting will be concerned with the local Minor Football program and the preliminary planning for the 1968 - 69 Minor Hockey program.

POOL SCHEDULE

The regular schedule for the swimming season at the Drayton Valley swimming pool will close Sunday, September 8th, at 10:00 p.m. There is a possibility that the pool may be open four hours a day, from 4:00 p.m. to 6:00 p.m. and from 7:00 p.m. to 9:00 p.m. during the following week from September 9th until Sunday, September 15th at which time the facility will definitely close for the season.

We had an excellent swimming season this year. The attendance was high, slightly above last year, financially we had a good year and the overall program and especially the instruction program was very good throughout.
